

MODERN SLAVERY STATEMENT 2024

- I/we acknowledge the Traditional Owners of the land where I/we work and live.
- I/We pay my/our respects to Elders past, present and emerging. I/we celebrate the stories, culture and traditions of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Elders of all communities who also work and live on this land.

OUR AIM

At Good Media Talent, we recognize the importance of addressing modern slavery risks within our business operations and supply chains.

The recent statutory review of Australia's Modern Slavery Act has highlighted crucial areas where businesses need to enhance their commitment to eradicating modern slavery.

We are committed to taking these recommendations seriously and actively contributing to the fight against modern slavery.

THE CONTEXT

The statutory review, led by Professor John McMillan AO, has identified a concerning lack of progress in combating the drivers of modern slavery since the inception of the Modern Slavery Act three years ago.

The Global Slavery Index estimates that 41,000 people in Australia currently live with modern slavery, emphasizing the urgent need for stronger responses from both the government and businesses.

KEY TARGETS

In response to the review, three primary targets for legislative change have been identified:

- 1. Improving the Standard of Modern Slavery Reporting
- 2. Enforcing the Reporting Obligations of Entities
- 3. Addressing Incompatible Modern Slavery Statements

CONCLUSION

As Good Talent Media actively awaits the federal government's response to the Modern Slavery Review, we are committed to playing our part in strengthening Australia's modern slavery laws.

The potential legal reforms underscore the need for businesses to proactively strengthen their modern slavery responses.

We believe that by adhering to these recommendations, we contribute to preventing and combating modern slavery, thereby enhancing our reputation as a responsible and ethical leader in our industry.
